

Annual Conference

Saturday 13th Oct 2018, Dunchurch Park Hotel, Warwickshire CV22 6QW

CONFERENCE 2018 Speaker Timetable

Chaired by
Dr. Susan Kempson
NAVP President

Hannah Capon

MA Vet MB MRCVS, CAM founder

Hannah has been a qualified first opinion small animal vet for 15 years. She is the founder of CAM which started off as a small one on one vet with owner external service in 2013. She had noted that there was a disproportion of dogs being euthanased for poorly managed arthritis and felt that this chronic disease needed to be managed differently. After a succession of euthanasias of dogs that had gone off their back legs, she felt compelled to initiate CAM online and help owners through an online platform as she had noted there was a lack of consistent reliable no commitment to buy resources for owners of dogs with arthritis to turn to.

Subject:

“Are we running before we should be walking?”

The often overlooked management strategies for canine arthritis.

Janet Lloyd-Jones

Reg BAC

Janet travels widely, providing both human and veterinary treatment, training and on-site consultation. She has written and presented papers both nationally and internationally to help establish and expand the awareness and use of Low Level Laser Therapy, now more commonly referred to as Photobiomodulation, and at the beginning of this year spend a month in South Africa supporting the rehabilitation of injured Vultures.

Subject:

“So what else can you do with Low Level Laser Therapy.....?”

A wider appreciation of the conditions and species that can be treated with LLLT.

Anna Webb

Broadcaster, Author and Trainer. Anna studied natural nutrition and therapies with the College of Integrated Veterinary Therapies (CIVT).

Subject:

"You Are What You Eat!"

Optimise natural health with a new science based approach called Nutrigenomics. Modern studies have proved what Hippocrates claimed: "Let medicine be thy food, and food be thy medicine". This talk will explore why a species appropriate diet packed with 'functional' foods promotes natural health and can help prevent disease.
